Note: A Declaration of Incorporation (DofI) to the Machinery Directive is used for partly completed machinery. The components manufactured by Hypertherm are partly completed machinery for use in final Waterjet Cutting Systems within the scope of the Machinery Directive (2006/42/EC dated 17-May-2006). This DofI does not authorize a CE marking even where the partly completed machinery conforms with Machinery Directive requirements applicable to the component. Equipment with a DofI must not be put into use until the compliance of the complete system has been assessed and a CE marking has been applied to the system by the system integrator. The Declaration of Conformity for Hypertherm Waterjet Systems using the same identical Hypertherm Waterjet components are available at www.Hypertherm.com
